Claims 1, 3, 8-10, 12-27, 29-32, 35-47 are presented for examination.

The amendments and remarks filed on November 23, 2009 have been received and entered.

Claims 1, 3, 8-10, 12-27, 29-32 and 35-47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Nutt et al., (Clinical Pharmacology and therapeutics, Vol. 15, Number 2, PP. 156-166) in view of Mayer et al. (US 5,556,838), Ockert (US 5,376,662), the European Patent Application 0193 355 and further in view of Palermo et al. (US 6,627,635) for the reasons set forth on pages 2-5 of the office action of May 26, 2009 and the following reasons

Palermo et al. teach the use of an opioid agonist and an opioid antagonist for reducing the abuse potential of an oral dosage form. See the abstract. The combination of the claimed opioid agonist and antagonists, such as hydromorphone and naltrexone is taught in column 5, lines 14-20.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 3, 8-10, 12-27, 29-32 and 35-47 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-27 of U.S. Patent No. 7,419,686 in view of European Patent Application 0 13 355. The claims of the instant application are drawn to a combination of an opioid agonist, an opioid antagonist and acetaminophen. The claims of the US Patent are drawn to the combination of an opioid agonist, an opioid antagonist. It would have been obvious to add an acetaminophen to the composition of the US Patent motivated by the European Patent application, which teaches the use of an opioid agonist, such as codeine in combination with acetaminophen for the treatment of pain.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Claims 1, 3, 8-10, 12-27, 29-32 and 35-47 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of U.S. Patent No. 7,172,767 in view of The European Patent Application 0 13 355. The claims of the instant application are drawn to a combination of an opioid agonist, an opioid antagonist and acetaminophen. The claims of the US Patent are drawn to the combination of an opioid agonist, an opioid antagonist. Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 3, 8-10, 12-27, 29-32 and 35-47 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-25 and 50 of U.S. Patent No. 6,277,384 in view of the European Patent Application 0 13 355. The claims of the instant application are drawn to a combination of an opioid agonist, an opioid antagonist and acetaminophen. The claims of the US Patent are drawn to the combination of an opioid agonist, an opioid antagonist. A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 3, 8-10, 12-27, 29-32 and 35-47 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-53 of U.S. Patent No. 6,375,957. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they overlap. The claims of the instant application are drawn to a composition of specific opioid agonist, specific opioid antagonist and an acetaminophen. The claims of the US Patent are drawn to a composition of an opioid agonist, an opioid antagonist and acetaminophen. The claims of the instant application are within the scope of the claims of the US Patent.

Applicant's arguments and remarks regarding the obviousness rejection have been carefully considered, but are not deemed to be persuasive. Applicant alleges criticality to the specific ratios of the claimed components. Applicant is reminded that the claims are not directed to any specific ratios. The use of functional language in a composition claim does not create a patentably distinct composition with the specific ratios.
